NEGRO DESPERADO CARRIED BACK TO WILSON FOR TRIAL

TAKEN FROM RALEIGH ON SPECIAL TRAIN UNDER HEAVY GUARD WAS LEWIS WEST, WHO KILLED DEPUTY MUMFORD—EIGHTEEN IMPLICATED.

Raleigh, March 13.—Lewis West, the negro desperado who is charged with the murder of Deputy Sheriff Mumford at Wilson February 8, and who has been held with several members of his gang in the penitentiary here for safekeeping since his arrest shortly after the crime, left here this morning on a special train under a strong guard for Wilson to stand trial at a special term of court ordered by Governor Kitchin. The Wilson military company will surround the jail during the trial to prevent trouble should violence be attempted.

Judge J. S. Adams will preside over the court and Solicitor Allsbrook will be aided by a number of prominent attorneys.

Eighteen negroes are now under arrest for complicity in the crimes at Wilson and other places. West has confessed to all the crimes against him except that of being the man who shot Deputy Sheriff Mumford in the head as he lay on the ground.

Debaters Selected For High School

The first steps were taken yesterday toward a victory for Greensboro High School in the triangular debate of April 14. Charlotte and Raleigh High schools will be Greensboro's opponents on the question "Resolved that the federal government should levy a graduated income tax, barring constitutional objections."

Seven boys entered the preliminary contest yesterday afternoon, Hugh Wolfe, Sigmund Lindau, Adger Forney, Chas. Moseley, Will Coffin, Tully Blair, and Willard Eutsler.

Great is the rivalry between the three upper classes of the high school represented by the contestants, and enthusiastic cheering greeted the debaters. Dr. J. S. Mann, superintendent of the city schools presided over the contest. S. Clay Williams, M. T. Wright and Rev. Nelson Clark were the judges.

The boys had worked hard in preparation for this debate and, as a result, each had an excellent argument on the income tax question. The judges spent several minutes in examining the merits of each and chose as Greensboro's representatives Messrs. Blair, Forney, Wolfe and Lindau.

These four are beyond doubt the High School's best debaters and the entire student body stands behind them to encourage them to victory in the larger and harder contest. Greensboro has the affirmative here on April 14 and will be represented by Mr. Blair, and one of the other three, each of whom had chosen the negative side of the question for yesterday's speech. The other two boys will debate Raleigh's team at that place on the same question.

The Record of Municipal Court

In Municipal court yesterday morning Dave Stevenson was given a hearing on three charges, that of drunk and disorderly, assault with a deadly weapon and resisting arrest. In the first case judgment was suspended and in the second he was placed under a $250 bond and required to report to the court each ninety days for two years to show that he was living peaceably. In the case charging resisting arrest Stevenson was fined $50 and costs and sentenced to serve thirty days in the work house.

Tom Donnell was charged with embezzlement. He pleaded guilty to forcing the treasurer and was sentenced to serve ninety days on the county roads.

GENERAL CARR ILL.
Durham, March 13.—General Julian S. Carr, who attended the Southern Commercial Congress in Atlanta last week, returned home Saturday night and has been confined to his room since that time. He was ill during the whole time he was away, and this detracted considerably from his enjoyment of the event in Atlanta.

ANNEX

To Court House Will be Erected at Cost of Several Thousand Dollars.

At yesterday's session of the County Commissioners sketches of a proposed addition to the county court house were presented by Architect F. A. Weston and after making several changes the architect was authorized to draw plans for the building to be approved by a committee, this committee to advertise for bids to be submitted at the April meeting.

This addition, which is to cost between $4,000 and $5,000 is to be erected by the County Commissioners and the County Board of Education and will be used by these two bodies. It is hoped to have the building completed within the next few months.

The building will be erected on the county property just west of the present building and in the rear of the old Mendenhall building. It will be two stories in height and the exterior will be similar to that of the main building. The first floor will be occupied by the county treasurer and auditor and the remainder will be for the use of the commissioners. A private room will be for executive sessions and there will be a large room for holding public meetings. This room will have a platform for the commissioners, similar to the stand for the judge's desk in the court room, cut off by a railing. The remainder of this room will be fitted with chairs for the convenience of those who come before the commissioners to consider road matters and other business. There will also be private toilet rooms and lavatories.

The second floor will be for the use of the County Board of Education. There will be a private office for the superintendent and a stenographer's room, also a private waiting room for ladies. Then there will be a large room for the use of the county board and for holding teachers examinations. There will also be toilet rooms and lavatories for both ladies and gentlemen.

The business of the county has outgrown the present quarters and it is only a question of a few years before a larger court house will have to be erected or the present one enlarged. The County Commissioners at present meet in the treasurer's office and there is not more than half enough room, there being times at each meeting when the room is crowded to the limit with people having business before the commissioners. The new building will give the commissioners relief. This is also true of the County Board of Education, the court room having to be brought into service quite frequently. Then there is no waiting room for the ladies when they have to wait a few minutes before they can see the county superintendent and they are forced to go away and return or wait on the outside.

The rooms to be vacated can readily be utilized by the other departments. The clerk has but half enough room, while the register of deeds could use additional room to advantage.

In addition to the new addition the county is going to increase the toilet facilities of the court house according to the recommendations of the recent grand jury and the request of the court. It is quite probable that the additional toilets will be installed in the basement or on the ground floor of the building, leaving the one upstairs for the private use of the court officials.

Meetings Close Tonight at West- minster Church

The revival meetings at Westminster church close tonight, and Dr. A. R. Shaw will return to Charlotte. This afternoon at three o'clock Dr. Shaw will preach to the children and tonight he will deliver his last discourse of the series.

The Sunday meetings were attended by unusually large congregations and seventeen persons made application for church membership on that day. The number of conversions reported total about thirty. Others will unite with Westminster church before the meeting close. The meetings have been very successful in results and the means of giving a great uplift to the church.

In response to the appeal the sum of $1,000 was pledged for the undertaking. Of this amount $500 was contributed by a lady whose name is withheld by request.

MOREHEAD TOWNSHIP SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION

The Morehead Township Sunday School Convention was held in the Christian church Sunday afternoon at three o'clock, there being a large attendance of delegates from the schools in the townships. There are eighteen schools in the township and of this number nine had representatives present. The reports from these schools were quite encouraging.

Addresses were made by Chas. H. Ireland on "All the Congregation in Sunday School," and Rev. J. Clyde Turner on "The Bad Boy in Sunday School." Both addresses were most helpful and instructive and were greatly enjoyed by all present.

The nominating committee submitted the following names for officers and the Charlotte, March 13.—Many Woodmen from the city and county camps left today for Greensboro to attend the second biennial convention, head camp jurisdiction, Woodmen of the World, which meets in Greensboro tomorrow.

Hornets Nest Camp, No. 96, of this city, the largest in the State, will send four delegates to the convention. They are J. W. Weddington, J. R. Anderson, J. A. Hinshaw and J. I. Witzell. These will be accompanied by W. S. Charles, district deputy and head consul.

Camps in the county will also be well represented. The following are a few of the county camps and their representatives:

MOSS

Who Impersonated
Federal Officer,
Required to Make
$1,000 Bond.

Acting under directions from Judge Boyd United States Commissioner D. H. Collins yesterday increased the bond of W. V. Moss from $500 to $1,000. Moss is the man who on Saturday impersonated a United States revenue officer and inspected the Elks' Club and other places. He will be given a preliminary hearing tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Moss went to the office of the Pierce Printing Company Saturday morning and had cards printed, giving his name and the official title of "General Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue." He also picked up a badge that had been ordered by O. A. Starbuck, who was recently promoted to the office of general deputy with headquarters in Richmond. He claims that he was drunk, but it is not believed that this statement will have any effect on the officials when it comes to passing on his case, as his actions did not resemble those of a drunken man.

Postponed Action in Regard to Court

The bill to establish a county court was not taken up by the County Commissioners yesterday as was expected and it will hardly be considered before the regular April meeting. Several members of the board were seen yesterday afternoon and while they had not studied the bill they expressed themselves as of the opinion that it was a good measure and that the commissioners would establish the court as provided by the law. Inasmuch as the law does not become effective until May 1 the commissioners have plenty of time to consider the proposition before taking final action.

In case they decline to establish the court, the city will most likely amend the present Municipal Court bill so as to make it operative over Gilmer and Morehead townships, an amendment to this effect having been passed by the legislature subject to its adoption by the Board of Aldermen.

More Announcements For Commissioners

Two well known citizens of the city enter the contest for commissionerships this morning, giving their formal announcements to the public. They are Mayor E. J. Stafford and W. T. Sergeant, the former for the commissioner'ship carrying with it the position of mayor and the latter for commissioner of public works.

Mayor Stafford, who has served as alderman and member of the street commission, is serving his first term as mayor. His friends believe that his business experience and familiarity with city affairs make him an ideal man for the position of head of the city government under the commission form.

Mr. Sergeant has been chairman of the Water and Light Commission since the organization of that body and his fitness for the position is undisputed. As commissioner of public works, if elected, he would continue to supervise these departments of the city government. Mr. Sergeant consented to become a candidate only after being petitioned to do so by a number of leading citizens.

Troops Can't Invade Mexico.

Macon, Ga., March 13.—United States Senator A. O. Bacon, who has just returned from Washington, stated today that the troops now on the Mexican border could not invade Mexico without express permission of congress unless something extraordinary happened.

The senator who came down from Washington with President Taft stated today that it was thought best to have the troops along the frontier on account of the chaotic conditions prevailing in Mexico.

The Board of Stewards of Spring Garden Methodist Episcopal church meets tonight at 7:30 o'clock.

Justice Collins, accompanied by his brother, George W., of Columbia, S. C., went down yesterday afternoon, to visit his father. He returned home on the evening train, leaving his father considerably improved. Soon afterwards he grew worse.

Mr. Collins was 78 years of age and had been twice married, his second wife surviving, together with seven children: D. H. Collins, Greensboro; G. W. Collins, Columbia; J. W. Collins, Martinsville, Va.; Jas. T. Collins, Abington, Va.; Mrs. C. W. Way and Mrs. W. P. Ingold, Brulington, and Mrs. J. W. Small, Alamance.

WORK ON Y. M. C. A.

BUILDING RESUMED.

Work on the Young Men's Christian Association building, which was held up several days ago on account of alleged defects in the cement foundations, was resumed yesterday morning, but the rain soon caused a second halt in the work. It is believed by cement experts that the foundation is all right and will not give away under the weight to be placed on it.

LANDMARK PLEADS FOR THE CROATAN INDIANS.

One of the bills adopted during the late session of the North Carolina Legislature proposed to change the name of the remnant of the Croatan Indians to the "Indians of Robeson County" and provide a separate ward for them in the insane hospital at Raleigh. The Norfolk Landmark has heard of this bill and is moved thereby to make a plea for better treatment for the Croatans. The language of the Landmark indicates that it misunderstood at least a portion of the action of the Legislature. Here is what the Norfolk paper has to say:

"Of the numerous bills passed by the last session of the North Carolina Legislature, there is one entitled:

"To change the name of Croatan Indians to the 'Indians of Robeson County' and provide a separate ward for them at the insane hospital at Raleigh.

"We are without a copy of the bill, but its name seems to interpret its meaning quite clearly. As usual, the Indian appears to be getting the worst of it. Of what crimes have these original Americans been guilty that they should be imprisoned, to die, in an insane asylum? Why change their historic name, inseparably connected with that of Sir Walter Raleigh, his first English colony on American soil, with Roanoke Islands, and the name of Virginia Dare, the first white child born in America? It may be that these Indians have merited the treatment which they are now about to receive. But that is scarcely conceivable, and in the light of the past dealing of the latter day Americans with the originals, the chances are that they are being disposed of in the most convenient way.

"There are but few Red Men left, and it would seem from this distance that North Carolina could well afford to place the small band of remaining Croatans, or 'Indians from Robeson County,' on a reservation which they might call their own and encourage them to self-reliance. They are certainly entitled to a square deal."

From the above it is evident that the Landmark has concluded it is the purpose of the State of North Carolina to confine all the Croatan Indians in the hospital for the insane at Raleigh. This interpretation of the Legislature's action is absurd. The proposal is simply to change the name of the Croatans to "Indians of Robeson County" and provide a separate ward for the insane of the tribe in the hospital. It is not the intention to confine all the members of the tribe in the insane hospital. Such a suggestion is preposterous on its face.

The question of changing the historic name of the Croatans is one open for discussion, and there will undoubtedly be found difference of opinion on this point; but no actual hardship will be inflicted upon the Indians by this change of name, and it is doubtful if any member of the tribe will object to this procedure. Otherwise, the Croatans are not "being disposed of in the most convenient way," as the Landmark suggests. All the Croatans are not insane and North Carolina has not arrived at the point where it is deemed advisable to incarcerate even the remnant of her aborigines in the insane hospital without the usual grounds for such action.

The facts in regard to the legislative action which has stirred the Virginia paper's sympathy, are these: The Indians are not wanted in the same wards of the hospital with white people. The white people object to this. The Indians object to being placed in the wards with negroes. So it was necessary to provide a separate ward for unfortunate Indians, in order to separate them from whites and negroes. So far from being an attempt to mistreat the Croatans this is legislation that it is a positive effort to show them consideration and to treat them with especial kindness.

We hope this explanation will relieve the overwrought nerves of the Landmark. There was no excuse for such misunderstanding of the Legislature's action, as the Landmark will probably conclude if the paragraph quoted is read carefully in the full light of reason.

By the way, has Congressman Richmond Pearson Hobson of Alabama yet given his approval to the warlike movement against the Mexican border?

What does the Raleigh News and Observer do for exercise and amusement in the interim between meetings of the Legislature?

It must be admitted, however, that

Governor Blease is a chief executive who will cause the natives of South Carolina to stay awake and take notice.

Several North Carolina cities are in the throes of commission government fights. Greensboro has passed that stage and is wrestling with the problem of electing the commissioners.

The Raleigh Times is boosting for the proposed commission charter in that city. The Raleigh charter is said to be a document embodying many of the most desirable features of commission government.

The election in Wilmington to determine if that city is to have commission government will be conducted Wednesday. The Dispatch believes Wilmington will adopt the new charter by an overwhelming vote.

The Salisbury Post, speaking pessimistically, suggests this new meaning for S. S. S.—"See Salisbury Shrink." The Spencer Crescent says they write it this way in that place: "See Spencer Spread." The Spencer version is much to be preferred.

"O for a little real estate to sell just now!" exclaims the Charlotte News. This is but another evidence of the fact that humanity is eternally dissatisfied. What does a newspaper magnate want with real estate? It could be sold for nothing but money and no newspaper man needs money.

The Durham Sun suggests the rolling pin as a political emblem for the woman suffragists. The suggestion is inappropriate. The suffragists do not propose to give the slightest attention to kitchen affairs. If their program goes through the poor men will have to wield the rolling pin or eat at restaurants.

NEWSPAPER OPINION.

Reforming Gradually.
"I have made it a rule," remarked the Colonel recently, "never to discuss." It seems to us that of late he has also given up dictation.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

Making Progress.
We're getting along. The Treasury Department hopes to save $300,000 a year on the coinage of gold under the new law, which will be a thousandth part of what Senator Aldrich said ought to be saved.—Indianapolis News.

Lacks News Sense.
Senator Heyburn wants to make the Congressional Record more popular, and yet when a real interesting affair occurs like that on the floor of the House recently, they chop it out. It seems to us that the editors of that pamphlet are lacking in news sense.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

But No Tariff Prices There.
Lancashire, England, is only a little bigger than the State of Rhode Island, yet Lancashire supplies the world with 70 per cent. of its manufactured cotton. Not an ounce of the cotton is grown in Lancashire; all of it must be imported over seas. A recent official report asserts that the Lancashire mill workers are as well housed and as well nourished as are those in the United States.—Savannah News.

Newspaper Difficulties.
Newspapers often get into difficulties by publishing editorial articles that later news confounds, but they do not have nearly so much trouble as the illustrated magazines, which have to get up their pictures a week or perhaps a month before they reach the public. An American magazine, which had on its cover a picture of Roosevelt shaking hands with King Edward was issued when King Edward had been dead for several days. Punch, in its latest issue to reach America, is placed in a more embarrassing position. Its large cartoon is that of Mr. Balfour at the grave of imperial preference. He is in mourning with bared head and all the vestiges of woe, but with a wicked smile on his face; but it so happened that the number containing this cartoon was issued the very day that Balfour's brother died and the unhappy parallel was so distressing to Punch that its editor wrote a letter to the London Times explaining what was obvious to everybody, that the necessities of arranging for the picture a week or two before the magazine came out made it impossible for them to know that Balfour's brother was even critically ill.—Boston Transcript.

WHAT NORTH CAROLINA EDITORS ARE SAYING.

Thinks Telegram Is Improving.
The Greensboro Telegram has been done all over anew—now runs double column heads and improves in appearance daily. Good luck to you, Editor Fair.—Charlotte News.

Approves of Small Industries.

The Greensboro Telegram urges small industries for Greensboro, for the reason that "small manufacturing establishments are worth more to a city, in proportion to their size, than large establishments," which "never, anywhere, operate continuously." Quite true. A multitude of small industries offers more means of employment to all classes of the city's working population and they are never closed down in a bunch when depression comes. The Star has often urged diversification of industries and the more of them of different kinds the better. We never have seen thrift absent from a city that was dotted all over with what are called small industries. Atlanta is a good example of it.—Wilmington Star.

High Prices Not An Unmixed Evil.

High prices have been denounced so often, and with a degree of finality, as being the greatest evil of the day, so that there is practically no opposition to the statement. And yet take the case in this section, high prices as opposed to the farming interests have served a good purpose, tho' the farmers themselves may complain at the prices they pay for seed, hay, corn and even hog products. Accepting these complaints, yet look at the other side. As prices have gone up, the farmers have been through necessity compelled to diversify their crops, and in self protection make each year, larger home supplies, until they have nearly reached a point in this home production, equal to the home consumption. This applies generally. Of course there are many farmers who buy nothing that can be grown on their farms, while they have many products to sell.

Hunger will force the most lazy person to exertion, in order to procure food, and so with prevailing low prices on farm products, it is easy to live without special exertion, when a little cotton will pay for home supplies. But with these home needed products at sky high figures, and the cotton crop below the average there has been urgent need to raise these home supplies, and the impetus thus demanded and kept going is proving a good thing, and there are such crops growing, that not only are home supplies secured, with thereby a large cut off in buying away from home, but the very stimulus of increased crop development has increased farm values and caused farmers to regard their acres in a very different light. In this farm stimulus, high prices have actually served a good purpose.—New Bern Journal.

Chickens and Character.

Chicken-raising is not usually considered in the light of a developer of character except in the sense that all genuine work ministers to this end, but The Barnwell, S. C., Sentinel calls attention to some features of the pursuit which have a distinctly ethical value. "Nothing could go further," it thinks, "toward steadying a flighty character, toward teaching the value of perseverance, toward inculcating the virtue of nearly rising and inducing other good habits. The boy who engages in chicken-raising cannot succeed unless he takes an interest in animal life. He must learn to be gentle to his charges, to study their welfare and to provide for their comfort. Regular habits are necessary for success."

To a superficial view such claims for chicken-raising may seem exaggerated, but closer examination will find them well-grounded. Practically the same advantages follow the boy's efforts at corn-raising for himself or the girl's attention to her tomato vines. In all these movements the end desired is not confined to the gain to be derived from the crop gathered or even to the knowledge and experience absorbed by the youthful farmers and gardeners. Of more far-reaching importance is the reflex effect such occupations have upon the characters of those engaged in them. The medieval dictum "to work is to pray" was based upon an essentially sound philosophy. Choice of a line in which to snare the interest of the growing boy or girl will be determined by each particular environment. The important thing is to get him or her to learn by the sweat of the face just how dignified and valuable a thing hard work is.—Charlotte Observer.

Woman's World

No American Girl Type, Says a Famous Swedish Artist.

MISS MAURINE RASMUSSEN, THE REAL "FISHER" GIRL.

"There is positively no such thing as the American girl."

Mr. Bror Kronstrand settled back in his easy chair and, placing the tips of his artistic fingers together, looked as bland as a May morning and utterly unconscious of the disillusionizing blow he had dealt.

Mr. Kronstrand is a Swedish portrait painter of international reputation, and after pretty thoroughly painting the crowned heads of Europe has come to America to paint the portraits of women in social and diplomatic circles. He has already painted a beautiful portrait of the first lady in the land, Mrs. Taft.

"I am absolutely firm in my opinion that there is no such thing as the much talked of American girl," he continued. "If there is she has been kept in the dark since I have been here and I have not had one peep at her."

"The American girl is always a woman; that is why I make the statement that seems shocking. As far as I have observed, from her days in the nursery until she is a mother she is a woman by instinct and in manner."

"Why, I have seen small children in this country older in manner and expression than young women of eighteen and twenty in some other countries. They have a sophisticated expression of eyes and face that comes to them long before they know really anything about the world, and this expression stays with them through life. 'I can't say that I dislike this child-woman of yours at all—in fact, she is very lovable and charming—but why call her an American girl? Call her a woman always and you will be paying her intelligence a great compliment."

"You see, here the children are brought up in such close association with their elders that they lose their baby manners before they leave the nursery. They have their teas and matinee parties, their fads and games; they are permitted to exercise their fancies on the selection of clothes and are consulted regarding their food. The very first of their early days are fraught with a knowledge of business and social affairs, because such things are talked before them, and I am utterly astounded to hear the wise remarks of very young girls on matters concerning state and business."

In spite of Mr. Kronstrand's assertion, Harrison Fisher has recently evolved a new "Fisher" girl. She is Miss Maurine Rasmussen of Chicago, who this year is studying art in New York city.

A New Game.
Games which have for a long time been taboo as a mode of entertainment for people in society are beginning to be revived. Some are most amusing and can be successfully used.

One of the best of these is the Japanese fan fight. Let your players divide into two sides. Each side must have a den. These dens are made by curving over a large sheet of cardboard at each end of the room. Stretch a tape across the middle of the room, and on it place one feather for every two people. Have feathers of different colors and give each player a Japanese fan, with the word that each is ready for the fight.

Let the two sides now face one another at either side of the tape, two opposing players being opposite each feather. At a given signal the fight begins. The object is to waft the feathers into their opponents' dens. When a feather is blown into a den he who loses it pays a forfeit, and he and his conqueror are onlookers until the end.

Denkeepers are appointed and have a lively time keeping the dens from being invaded. If Japanese fans and feathers are not available, pieces of colored tissue paper may be substituted for the feathers and folded newspapers for the fans.

Saving Tablecloths.
It is well to have your tablecloths and sheets folded widthwise occasionally, instead of lengthwise, as this prevents the fold from always coming in the same place and thus causing that place to wear out first.

"Pa, are there any miracles nowadays?"

"Yes. I heard of one last night. A young man who had inherited a million decided not to go to New York to spend it."—Chicago Record-Herald.

Cookery Notes

Prune Souffle.
For prune souffle remove the pits from a large cupful of stewed prunes and chop fine. Add the whites of three eggs and half a cupful of sugar beaten to a stiff froth. Mix well, turn into a buttered dish and bake thirty minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with whipped cream. If it is desired to cook this in individual cups butter the cups, fill only two-thirds full to allow for puffing up of the eggs and set the cups in a pan of water to bake. Some like a dash of cinnamon in this.

Another recipe for prune whip in which the making is omitted is especially rich. Take one pint of stewed prunes, one-third pint of thick cream, whites of six eggs and raspberry or loganberry jelly. After thoroughly draining the prunes pit them and rub them through a colander, but avoid rubbing the skins through as much as possible. Beat the whites of the eggs to a stiff froth, then by degrees beat this into sifted prunes. If not sweet enough to suit the taste add a teaspoonful of sugar.

The delicacy of this dish depends largely upon the thoroughness with which the ingredients are beaten together. When well beaten together pour into a glass dish. Whip the cream and spread evenly over the top of pudding, then fleck the whipped cream with bits of the jelly. Serve with cream or, if preferred, with a custard made from the yolks of six eggs.

Chicken Pie.
Two medium sized chickens, one pound of raw sausage, one slice of onion, a few herbs, a little chopped parsley, seasoning of salt and pepper, two cupfuls of cold water, one heaping tablespoonful of powdered gelatin, some pastry, one raw egg, one hard cooked egg and a few slices of cold ham.

Cut the chickens into neat, small joints and take out the bones. Skin the sausages. Put the bones, necks and gizzards into a pan with enough cold water to cover them; also the onion, herbs and seasoning. Let all simmer gently for an hour and a half. Put a layer of chicken in a pudding dish, then some slices of cold ham and hard boiled egg. Sprinkle over these some chopped parsley, pepper and salt. Repeat these layers till the dish is full, then pour in the cold water. Put on the lid of pastry. Decorate it with leaves of pastry, glaze it with beaten egg and bake for two hours in a quick oven to begin with and then in a cooler. When it is done lift out the center ornament and pour in the stock made from the bones.

Stews That Are Good to Eat.
A variation of the old time Irish stew has the meat cooked with tomatoes, peppers and potatoes in place of the usual carrots and other vegetables. For a brown stew cut the cooked or uncooked meat in pieces, roll them in flour and fry them brown in drippings. Then turn in hot water and boil until the meat is within fifteen minutes of being tender. Add potatoes cut in pieces, a green pepper or two with the seeds removed, and cut in pieces a sweet red pepper or two prepared in the same way and a half cupful of tomatoes. Season with salt, pepper and a little paprika.

Clam Fritters.
The following batter is excellent for clam fritters: Sift a pint of flour with a teaspoonful each of salt, sugar and cream of tartar and half a teaspoonful of soda. Add a tablespoonful of melted butter, one egg and half a pint of milk. Mix the flour, sugar, salt, soda and cream of tartar together and rub through a sieve. Whip the egg till very light and stir it into the milk, then beat it gradually into the dry ingredients. When the batter is smooth stir a very scant pint of chopped clams into it, taking care not to add enough clam juice to moisten it too much. Fry on a hot griddle.

Neapolitan Cake.
For neapolitan cake prepare two cake batters, one white and the other yellow, and divide each batter into two parts. Color one half of the white batter a beautiful pink and leave the other half white. Color and flavor one half of the yellow batter with chocolate. Bake each of the cakes in layer form and when cold place the layers together with a nice soft icing flavored with orange juice. The yellow layer may be flavored with orange juice if desired and the white flavored with vanilla or almond. The pink may be flavored with strawberry or rose.

Pepper Nuts.
One pound of pulverized sugar, one pound of flour (very scant), three eggs, two ounces of chopped citron, one tablespoonful of cinnamon, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of cloves, one-quarter of a teaspoonful of pepper, one-quarter of a pound of chopped almond meats. Beat the sugar and eggs one hour, then add the other ingredients, the citron last. Put in little lumps in greased pan. Bake in moderate oven.

An Attractive Sundae.
For an attractive sundae prepare a vanilla ice cream, divide it among as many sherbet glasses as there are guests to be served and sprinkle each with minced nut meats and pour around it some finely flavored sirup from a jar of the best preserved ginger.

Jerrold's Jokes.

One has heard many legendary jokes about Thackeray's broken nose, and Mr. Walter Jerrold adds another to the number in the biography which he has written of his grandfather, "Douglas Jerrold and Punch." He quotes from a letter which Jerrold wrote to Dilke of the Athenaeum, about the year 1853: "Lady — is trying to convert Thackeray to Romanism. She had better begin at his nose!"

When, on another occasion, Albert Smith drew Jerrold's attention to an article which he had written for one of the magazines and signed "A. S.," he was cruelly asked, "Why do you only tell two-thirds of the truth?"

A Sharp Churchman.

Of the famous Samuel Foote, caustic wit and practical joker, the following story is given:

Foote tried a joke on the archbishop of Canterbury, who was not to be caught. The actor forwarded a copy of "The Minor" to the primate, a play so gross that Irish audiences would have none of it, though it was a big success in England, with the polite request that if his grace saw anything objectionable in it he would strike it out. But the archbishop sent it back without a mark and declared afterward to a friend that if he had put a pen to the manuscript Foote would straightway have advertised it "as corrected and prepared for the stage by his grace the archbishop of Canterbury." And, judging by what history tells us of Foote's character, he probably would.

Postcard Etiquette.

As a general rule a postal card should not be used except for business purposes. Socially it is only to be employed for rather impersonal communications, such as announcing the meetings of a committee or society or forwarding an address. If it is an absolute necessity to send one to a friend or a member of one's family, as when stopping for a moment at a railroad station, one wishes to send a line home, the sentences should be short and to the point, with an apologetic word for its use. The communication it bears should not be prefaced by an affectionate salutation. All personal messages should be omitted as well as the intimate termination that is proper in a sealed letter. The signature should be simply the initials of the Christian name and the full surname.

Etiquette Books Popular.

The fact that the old fashioned etiquette manual on "How to Act in Society," etc., is still popular, even in the big cities, was shown by the recent distribution by a New York Sunday paper of a book on good form. This pamphlet told the reader how to act on every conceivable social occasion, what to say when spoken to, what not to say, how to say what was to be said, what to do with the hands and the feet under certain circumstances, how to address letters of invitation or declination or acceptance, and a host of other things. Persons were seen diligently reading these etiquette manuals in elevated and subway trains for days after their distribution.

WORK ON ROOSEVELT TROPHIES IN SMITHSONIAN INSTITUTION.

Washington, March 13.—All possible speed is being used by the Smithsonian Institution in preparing the specimens secured by the Roosevelt African expedition.

This is the reply made by officials to the declaration made several days ago by Colonel Roosevelt, that he wished Congress would appropriate sufficient money to enable the institution to prepare the collection for immediate exhibition.

It may require two or three years to complete the work, it is said. Nothing is being left undone to give the Roosevelt series of East African animals its proper place among the treasures already in the National Museum.

Rankin is appointed Registrar for Morehead Precinct, and John W. McNairy is appointed Registrar for Gilmer Precinct.

The Registration Books to be opened on the last Monday in March and closed the second Saturday before the said election.

By order of the Board of Aldermen.
JOHN S. MICHAUX,

Good Form

Let Him Play Host.

Grant the boy the privilege of having his friends to meals as often as you can conveniently arrange for it. Perhaps you are among those fortunate ones who have a large family with a big table where the addition of an extra plate counts for little. If such is the case your way is simple. Should there be several sons to plan for consider a system of rotation that each may have his guests in a fair ratio. If your family is small, so that it is desirable to have a little notice in advance before adding another hearty boy's appetite to those you have reckoned for, fix on a certain time when your boy may ask a friend in to dinner or supper. Boys are delightfully uncritical creatures, bless their hearts! Give them a cordial welcome and plenty of food and they will never miss trills of serving.

Study other compensations for the abstinence from natural racketing you are obliged to demand from your boy while he is at home. Provide him chances to let off steam elsewhere, in places intended for just such relaxations. Send him out into the open on holidays and give him the means of pursuing any athletic sport which attracts him. Be sure that there is a good playground connected with the school he attends. Encourage him to work in the gymnasium.

All the compensation you offer the boy need not be limited to the possession of a pleasant room and the other privileges I have mentioned. Don't forget that when he displays the consideration demanded of him in a well regulated family he is putting a restraint upon himself you can hardly understand, no matter how close your sympathy with him. Many comments have been made upon the wonderful self control displayed by the child who submits without protest to a prohibition or grants prompt obedience to a command beyond his comprehension. Largely a matter of habit possibly, but there is a great deal of thought going on inside that small head, and often than we imagine we parents are being haled before a child's mental judgment seat and condemned unreservedly or with recommendation to mercy.

"How Do You Do?" Merely a Greeting.

It is a wise person, man as well as woman, who when asked "How do you do?" responds by saying he or she is well.

"How do you do?" is really, generally speaking, a casual greeting, accepted by custom as being the simplest form of addressing a person. If either individual takes the greeting seriously and answers that she is not well the other person frequently is much astonished and almost without exception is bored. With close friends a woman—or man, either—may be frank, but with acquaintances it is better to be casual and answer, "Very well" to the salutation "How do you do?"

A fact persons learn with advancing years is that each individual, as a rule, prefers to talk about himself or herself rather than hear others talk.

Nor is the dislike to listening to such topics strange. We feel sympathy only toward those of whom we are fond; to others it is necessary to appear sympathetic, and this is not an easy matter when we would rather be talking on gay topics in which we are really interested.

The person who is most popular is she who amuses others generally, who goes about with something lively rather than something doleful to tell. In nine cases out of ten a doleful person will be avoided, while the gay one will be sought.

NEW COMMISSIONER SWORN IN.

Cyrus A. Wharton, who was appointed County Commissioner by Superior Court Clerk Forbis last week to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Chairman J. A. Davidson, appeared yesterday and took the oath of office administered by the clerk. Mr. Wharton participated in the business that came before the board yesterday. A chairman will be elected by the board at the regular April meeting. W. C. Tucker, who has been temporary chairman, will most probably be elected, being the senior member of the board from the point of service.

Wadesboro Company Disbanded.

Adjutant General Leinster has ordered the Wadesboro military company to disband, it having failed to measure up to the requirements of the inspection of the U. S. Army officer now inspecting the companies of the State. Col. T. B. Robertson, chief of ordnance, will settle the accounts of the disbanded companies and the officers and companies will be formally discharged from the service. The list of commissioned officers of the North Carolina National Guard who are anxious to go to the Mexican frontier has been forwarded to the war department and it is likely that some of them will be called upon for this service. The companies representing the three North Carolina regiments will hold a target practice during April. The teams competing will consist of one commissioned officer and nine enlisted men from each company and each regimental meet will last three days.

NEWS NOTES FROM STATE UNIVERSITY

Chapel Hill, N. C., March 13.—The varsity representatives for the debate with the universities of Georgia and Virginia were chosen in the literary society halls Thursday night and W. A. Ders and W. T. Joyner for Virginia and L. C. Moser and D. A. Lynch for Georgia were selected. These men were victorious over a vast field of candidates. The query is: "Resolved, that the Federal government should enact a national income law." On the night of April 29, Carolina will have the affirmative against Georgia in Chapel Hill and the negative against Virginia in Charlottesville.

The University Tennis Association is making an attempt to organize the State Intercollegiate Tennis Association to include A. & M., Trinity, Davidson, Guilford, Elon and Carolina. The plan is to have an annual intercollegiate tournament to decide the State championship, to be held at each of the colleges in turn. Carolina invites the association to meet for the first tournament in Chapel Hill the week after Easter, when the Junior Brom festivities will be in progress. A cup will be awarded annually to the winner of the championship.

Prof. Marvin H. Stacy addressed the Tuesday night meeting of the Y. M. C. A. this week on the importance of details in college life and in the bigger struggle for which college life is the preparation. Dr. W. R. L. Smith delivered the third of a series of addresses before the Y. M. C. A. mission study classes Sunday on China.

The University will confer as they classes the academic degree upon every student who during the period from 1861 to 1865 left Chapel Hill for naval or military service in the Civil War whether on the side of the Confederacy or the Union. In this act the University of North Carolina is the first educational institution North or South, that has thrown aside the bonds of sectionalism and conferred the degree upon the men who fought on both sides. More than one hundred men are known to be eligible for the degrees and the faculty committee under the supervision of Dr. J. G. De Roulhae Hamilton is working hard to locate these men and prevail on them to come back and receive the honor. A general reunion of all the war classes will be held at the coming commencement and it is probable that a larger number of alumni will visit the University than at any time during recent years.

Dr. Henry Van Dyke of Princeton will deliver the John Calvin McNair lectures in Chapel Hill Friday, Saturday and Sunday, March 24, 25, 26. During the coming week the University Glee Club will give concerts in Statesville, Asheville, Morganton, Hickory, Winston and Greensboro.

Woman Causes Triple Tragedy.

Brantford, Conn., March 13.—A bullet she fired into her own breast after she had murdered her husband and their 11-year-old son, caused the death today of Cora Wood. Last week Mrs. Wood fatally shot her husband, Christopher C. Wood, and their son, Vardemond, then shot herself. The triple tragedy has not been explained.

He Wouldn't Bribe Them.

One of the cleverest bits of electioneering dodgery engineered in England was devised by an agent who had been forbidden to corrupt the electors. He called a meeting and attended with his pockets full of gold. "I have to inform you, gentlemen," he began, "that there is to be no bribery on our side during this election. (Hear, hear.) For my part I do not intend to give away a penny piece. (Uneasy silence.) But I am afraid there are some d—d rascals in this room and that presently they will lay me on the table and take 500 sovereigns out of my pockets." The next few minutes he spent upon the table.

MARCH.

Bud o' the larch, blue, o' the sky,
Storm winds of March, roistering by;
Call of a bird, somewhere overhead,
Green branches stirred, soft petals spread.

Song in my breast, eager and fair,
Hope at its crest, Spring's in the air.

Sky like an arch, clouds misty white,
Sunshine of March, golden and bright;
Flowers on the lea, Eastward and West,
Whisper to me, Earth's at its best.
Joy in my soul, why should I care,
Certain the goal, Spring's in the air.

Breath o' the larch, sweet o' the pine,
Green fields o' March, alders in line;
Patter of feet, squirrels at play,
Bird-songs that greet, happy and gay.
Bliss in my heart, Life is so fair,
Praises upstart, Spring's in the air.

PROMOTIONS BY PUBLIC SERVICE COMPANY

C. H. Andrews, who has been superintendent of the light and power department of the North Carolina Public Service Company for the past two years, has been made assistant manager. Manager Deal's duties in connection with other companies controlled by W. N. Coler & Co. has taken him out of Greensboro a great deal recently and Mr. Andrews, under the new arrangement, will handle the affairs of the company during Mr. Deal's absence from the city. Mr. Andrews in the capacity of superintendent of light and power has been quite efficient and his promotion to an office of greater trust will be learned of with pleasure by his friends. G. L. Fritz has been appointed auditor, succeeding W. B. S. Winans, who resigned in order to accept a position in New York, from which place he came to accept the position of auditor of the Public Service Company at the time of its formation two years ago. Mr. Fritz is a native of Michigan and came to Greensboro recently as auditor of the engineering department of W. N. Coler & Co., that department having been moved here from Michigan a few months ago. He will still retain this position besides performing his duties as auditor for the Public Service Company.

Mixed Emotions.

A Bostonian tells of a clean, well set up young Irishman who formerly saw service in the British navy, but who is now engaged in business at the Hub.

"When are you going to get freedom in Ireland, John?" the Bostonian once idly asked.

"The only way that we'll get freedom in old Ireland," said the Celt, "will be if France an' Russia an' Germany an' Austria an' maybe Italy—if they would all join together to give those blackguards of English a rare old batin'. That's the only way, sir, we'll get home rule."

Then as he looked cautiously about a twinkle of cunning was added to his expression. "An' the whole lot of 'em together couldn't do it, sir. Oh, it's the grand navy we've got!"—Lippincott's Magazine.

The Talmud.

The Talmud is the compendium of ancient Jewish oral, or unwritten, law, as distinguished from the Pentateuch, or written, law. Its origin is coeval with the return of the Jewish people from the Babylonian captivity, 538 B. C. Its compilation in Hebrew was begun by the scribes, and by their successors the work was carried on till 220 B. C. The Talmud is a combination of prose and poetry and contains two elements, legal and legendary. Its morality resembles that of the New Testament, and its philosophy reminds us very forcibly of that of the great Plato.—New York American.

A Fresh Egg.

An English food expert, said in a recent lecture:

"The secret of health is two meals a day with an occasional fast. But people won't avail themselves of this superb secret. It is too unpleasant—like the fresh egg. A gentleman, after cutting the top off a soft boiled egg, summoned the waiter and said: "Waiter, take this egg back to the kitchen, wring its neck, and grill it for me."

Yeast—Wouldn't it be funny to see a woman running for office? Crimmonback—It certainly would if she had on one of those hobble skirts.—Yonkers Statesman.

OUTWITTED THE ORIENTALS.

An Experience With the Customs Officials at Kermanshah.

In eastern lands the collecting of customs dues is attended with perhaps more than ordinary fraud. In his book, "From Batum to Baghdad," Mr. W. B. Harris has told his experience with the customs officers of Kermanshah. The incident had its comical feature as well as its serious lesson:

Two hours later than I had intended we made a start, proceeding through the long tunnel-like bazaars, emerged from the town. Here fate had annoyed in store for me. At the local custom house the guards wanted to search us and make us pay duty on our scanty baggage.

I had hired a mule to carry our saddlebags as far as Baghdad, using the owner of the mule, a wily old Arab who accompanied us, as a guide. These two, mule and man, the guards absolutely refused to let pass without my bestowing a perfectly illegal and illogical bakshesh. This I stoutly refused to do, and, knowing that in the east a show of temper is of no avail, I swallowed my wrath and argued coolly and collectedly with the soldiers.

Soon they confessed that they had no right to touch either me or any animal of mine, but they maintained that the mule and the rider were both Arabs and that therefore I could not interfere.

This was just what I wanted, and I solved the matter in a minute. I put the Arab on my horse and I rode his mule. There was no question about it then. The guards on their own confession could stop neither me nor my horse, and we rode quietly on amid the laughter of the men to change our mounts again fifty yards past the custom house.

GARBLED QUOTATIONS.

Popular Passages That Are Frequently Rendered Incorrectly.

Almost everybody who quotes at all misquotes. Nothing is more common than to hear:

A man convinced against his will is of the same opinion still.

This is an impossible condition of mind, for no one can be convinced of one opinion and at the same time hold to an opposite one. What Butler wrote was eminently sensible:

He that compels against his will is of his own opinion still.

A famous passage of Scripture is often misquoted thus: "He that is without sin among you let him cast the first stone." It should be, "Let him first cast a stone."

Sometimes we are told, "Behold, how great a fire a little matter kindleth," whereas St. James said, "Behold, how great a matter a little fire kindleth," which is quite a different thing.

We also hear that "a miss is as good as a mile," which is not as sensible or forcible as the true proverb, "A miss of an inch is as good as a mile."

"Look before you leap" should be "And look before you ere you leap."

Pope is generally credited with having written:

Immodest words admit of no defense, For want of decency is want of sense, though it would puzzle any one to find the verses in his writings. They were written by the Earl of Roscommon, who died before Pope was born.

Franklin said, "Honesty is the best policy," but the maxim is of Spanish origin and may be found in "Don Quixote"—Pearson's Weekly.

"Teddy" Reviews Troops.

San Antonio, Texas, March 13.—Col. Roosevelt began his seventh day of the present tour with a flying review of the troops gathered near this city under the recent order of the war department. The camp is located a few minutes ride by motor out of the city at Fort Sam Houston and at the solicitation of Gen. Carter, commanding, and the other general officers who paid their respects to the former President last night, the colonel agreed to sacrifice some hours sleep in order to sweep through the long lines of tents in an automobile, receiving the artillery salute due him and hastened back to the city to make an address under the walls of the historic Alamo.

FOLEY'S KIDNEY CURE
Makes Kidneys and Bladder Right

FIFTEEN YEAR OLD TENNESSEE BOY IS EXPERT CORN GROWER

Memphis, Tenn., March 9.—While Norman Smith, a 15-year-old Tipton county lad, told the members of the City Club of Memphis yesterday afternoon how he succeeded in producing 125 1-2 bushels of corn upon one acre of ground, interest was so intense that the dropping of a pin could have been heard. Then, when the energetic young farmer concluded his recitation, the assembly hall of the Business Men's Club rang out with tumultuous applause, a slight expression of the great enthusiasm which has been aroused among Memphis business men in the movement for the establishment of more corn clubs in this section.

Questions asked by members of the club developed the fact that the entire cost of cultivation, including proper estimates as to the rental of the land and the cost of such things as had been given by the father, was just $37.10, whereas the yield, at prices current in the rural districts of the county where it was raised, is worth $125.50. In addition to this handsome profit, the young man earned a cash prize of $40 offered by the Boys' Corn Club of Tipton county.

POLICE CAN'T STAND ON REWARD

Must Do Their Duty Regardless of It, Supreme Court Rules.

Richmond, Va., March 13.—The Supreme Court of Appeals rendered a decision in the case of Buck against Nance, in which the decision of the lower court was for the second time reversed. The case grew out of the theft of a box of jewels on a Pullman car between New York and Richmond in December, 1910.

The jewels were the property of Mrs. S. W. Buck, of Richmond. They were valued at several thousand dollars. A reward was offered. A dispute resulted as to who earned the reward. Nance, a deputy sergeant, learned the secret from a negro confined in the local jail. Others assisted in securing the jewels, and a suit as to the reward resulted.

The Court held it the duty of an officer of a court to report such information regardless of reward, refusal to do so being worthy of dismissal.

Liberty School Annual Debate

Liberty, N. C., March 11, 1911.—Last night the Athenian Literary Society of the Liberty Public School gave its first annual debate. The query was, "Resolved that the legislature of North Carolina should enact a law compelling all children between the ages of six and sixteen to attend school four months each year."

The speakers on the affirmative side of the question were Mr. J. B. Hurley and Mr. A. J. Brower. The speakers on the negative side were Mr. Paul Staley and Mr. John Kearns.

The decision was for the affirmative. However, very forceful arguments were presented by both sides. This is a question which is of vital interest to the State and which may in the near future be offered to the citizens of the State for decision.

The society intends to make the annual debate a permanent feature of the society work.

$135,000 FOR "GOOD WILL"

Boss Cox and Trust Co. Involved In Fraud Charge.

Cincinnati, March 13.—Alleging mismanagement and the impairment of stockholders' interests, a suit for an accounting and receivership was filed in the Superior Court here against the Ford & Johnson Company, a $3,000,000 corporation.

The action is brought by Caroline Ziegler, a Cincinnati stockholder, on behalf of herself and other stockholders.

It is alleged in the petition that the company recently bought control of four other companies manufacturing chairs and that the exchange of shares resulted in a profit of $134,000 for the Cincinnati Trust Company, of which George B. Cox, one of the directors of the Ford & Johnson Company, is president.

This $134,000 was charged on the books of the Ford & Johnson Company, it is alleged, to "good-will." It is stated that there was no valuable consideration given for this difference and that therefore it was a fraud.

Look out for severe and even dangerous kidney and bladder trouble resulting from years of railroad work. Geo. E. Bell, 639 Third St., Fort Wayne, Ind., was many years a conductor on the Nickel Plate. He says: "Twenty years of railroad work left my kidneys in terrible condition. There was a continual pain across my back and hips and my kidneys gave me much distress, and the action of my bladder was frequent and most painful. I got a supply of Foley Kidney Pills and the first bottle made a wonderful improvement and four bottles cured me completely. Since being cured I have recommended Foley Kidney Pills to many of my railroad friends." Howard Gardner.

Turning the Tables.

The bridegroom and his bride were starting on their honeymoon. Just as they had taken their seats in the train one of the bridegroom's chums came hastily along to bid him goodbye.

As the young husband extended his hand the friend snapped a handcuff on his wrist. The groom had been expecting a trick of some kind, and before the practical joker could play a similar trick on the bride he found the other handcuff snapped around his own wrist. He was chained to the happy bridegroom himself!

"That's a good one against me, Harry," he said, with a sickly smile, "but I shall have to ask you to come to the door with me and get the key for these things. A man on the platform has it."

Just then the whistle sounded, and the train started off, and it made no stop for the next fifty miles. Before that, however, the porter, with the aid of a file, succeeded in separating the "prisoners."

The joker meanwhile had to pay full fare both ways.

A Fierce Night Alarm

is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., (R. R. No. 2) for their four children were greatly subject to croup. "Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Caught the Court.

An Irishman was arraigned for intoxication, and after answering the court's request for his name Pat addressed the judge in the flowery language of blarney. In his plea for another chance Pat intermixed his title of "your honor" with "your holiness," "your reverence" and other titles usually applied to those of the clerical garb. Finally, when the stream continued for some minutes, the judge stopped Pat and asked:

"Now, Pat, what in the name of thunder do you think I am?"

Pat hesitated for a moment and, scratching his head as if perplexed, replied:

"Sure, your reverence, judging from your kindly face, I am sure that you can't be anything less than a bishop."

Then amid the laughter of the attendants Pat was discharged.—Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

He Earned the Money.

A certain pretty girl who lives on a fashionable street in Chestnut hill has a small brother who is, as small brothers are apt to be, the plague of her existence and over whom she attempts to maintain a rigid elder sisterly discipline.

Yesterday afternoon she saw him eating candy. "Why, Phil," she said, "where did you get that candy?"

"Oh, I bought it," Philip replied airily, and Philip's sister, who knew the deplorable state of his finances, raised her eyebrows suspiciously.

"Where," she began—"where did you get the money?"

Philip whistled. "I earned it," he answered, with great assumption of dignity.

The big sister wondered for a moment, then laughed outright. "You never earned a cent in your life, Phil," she exclaimed. "You're too lazy for anything. Tell me," very sternly, "where you got that money."

"None o' your business," answered Philip impudently; "you ain't my mother. I tell you I earned it. I did. I earned this all right. I got it from your beau yesterday afternoon when I saw him kissing the baby's nurse. Well, what's the matter? I guess I earned it all right."—Philadelphia Times.

ONE WEAK SPOT

Most Greensboro People Have a Weak Spot and Too Often It's the Back.

Everyone has a weak spot. Too often it's a back.

Twinges follow every sudden twist. Dull aching keeps up, day and night. Tells you the kidneys need help—For backache is really kidney-ache.

Are for backache and urinary ills. Good proof of their merit in the following statement.

Mrs. J. W. Pettigrew, Main St., Reidsville, N. C., says: "I continue to think Doan's Kidney Pills an excellent remedy for the kidneys and gladly verify the statement I gave in their praise nearly three years ago. For several years I had kidney complaint and there was a dull ache across the small of my back and in my head. I often felt worn out and was miserable in every way, when I got Doan's Kidney Pills. They lived up to the claims made for them, restoring me to good health."

LIVING AT HIGH TENSION

To overdo in order to keep up with the parade is the tendency of the age. Living at such a high tension, is it wonder that our nerve sanatoriums and rest cures are filled with nervous, overworked, broken-down men and women.

When one begins to get into this condition, there is only one cure—a complete rest, together with a wholesome diet and a good blood-making tonic and strength creator. There is nothing in this line that can possibly equal the medicinal elements of the liver combined with tonic iron. This simple combination is found in Vinol. It contains no oil or grease and agrees with everyone.

A well known college professor states that he considers Vinol a truly wonderful tonic and strength creator. He was himself overworked and run-down to a critical point. A friend advised him to try Vinol. He did so, and is now enjoying perfect health. All its curative powers cannot be too strongly extolled.

We recommend Vinol to build up and strengthen the run-down and overworked, weak women, old people, delicate children and convalescents. In case anyone is not satisfied after taking one bottle, we always refund their money. This does not happen, often, however, because Vinol's percentage of cures is very high. ANOTHER WONDER OF SCIENCE.

Science has Proved that Dandruff is Caused by a Germ.

Science is doing wonders these days in medicine as well as in mechanics. Since Adam lived, the human race has been troubled with dandruff, for which no hair preparation has heretofore proved a successful cure until Newbro's Herpicide was brought on the market. It is a scientific preparation that kills the germ that makes dandruff or scurf by digging into the scalp to get at the root of the hair, where it lays the vitality, causing itching scalp, falling hair, and finally baldness. Without dandruff hair must grow luxuriantly. It is the only destroyer of dandruff. Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Can Ad Walgost Meet G. Memsic?

Los Angeles, Cal., March 13.—Will Ad Walgost be in fit condition next Friday afternoon to enter the Pacific Athletic Club's arena for a gruelling twenty round battle with George Memsic? This question is worrying many fight fans here. When Walgost landed in Los Angeles last Friday morning, he was quoted to the effect that he was in first class shape. The champion's present appearance does not substantiate such a statement. For that matter, Ad is willing to admit that he is not in the best of physical condition.

Even Tom Jones, his trainer, admitted today that Ad is not in the best of shape.

"The kid isn't feeling any too well," said Jones. "The change of climate has upset him a trifle."

Walgost talked in a listless manner. "I don't know what ails me, unless the change of climate into such a warm climate," he said.

Dr. L. R. Edwards, a prominent local physician whose practice brings him in constant touch with boxers, shook his head in a discouraging way and gave it as his opinion that Walgost was in anything but first class fighting form.

"I found him dozing on a couch," said the doctor. "I looked him over and discovered that his temperature was 101, his muscles are soft. I would not pronounce Ad a sick man, but he is miles away from being in good condition."

Intercollegiate Track Meet on Easter Monday

Raleigh, March 13.—The third annual Carolina inter-college track meet will be held in Raleigh at the new athletic field of the A. & M. College on Easter Monday morning, April 17th. The new field at the college has been recently worked over and now is provided with a one-fifth mile cinder track, which encircles the football and baseball fields, and a one hundred and twenty yard straight-away for the 100-yard dash and the high hurdles. With what additions the management hopes to make before the first of April, the field will amply provide for all the needs of such a big meet.

As those who were in the city last year remember, we were disappointed in not having this most spectacular of all athletic events on account of inclement weather and the additional fact that the meet was slated for such a late date it was impossible then to find another open day as examinations were so near at hand. This year the manager hopes to avoid such a calamity by posting the meet so early the one rain storm will not do away with all hopes of having the games, as other dates will remain.

Easter Monday has been selected because it was thought that more of the business men of the city would be able to get out to the field on account of its being a legal holiday, and because the city will be filled with visitors to attend this event of the A. & M.-Wake Forest baseball game in the afternoon.

The following colleges will be represented at the meet:

University of North Carolina, Trinity College, Wake Forest College, A. & M. College, Davidson College.

Guilford will not be able to come down on account of conflicts with the baseball schedule.

With an average of fifteen men on each team, the reader can easily imagine the interest which will be aroused at this meet.

The following events will take place: Track—100 yard dash, 1 mile run, 220 low hurdles, 1-4 mile run, 120 yard dash, 1-2 mile runs, 2 mile run.

Field—Throwing the 1* lb. hammer, broad jump, pole vault, putting 16 lb. shot, high jump.

CONFERENCE FOR EDUCATION
MEETS IN JACKSONVILLE IN APRIL

Knoxville, Tenn., March 13.—The fourteenth conference for education in the South will be held at Jacksonville, Fla., April 19, 20 and 21. The general theme of the conference will be the better adaptation of education to life and especially to the rural life of the South—a continuation and intensification of the theme of the conference held at Little Rock last April. The first meeting of the conference will be on Wednesday morning, the last on Friday evening, thus giving six general meetings and three afternoons for the round table conferences, which have become a very important feature of the conference.

One of the general meetings will be given to a discussion of rural co-operation. It is expected that the United States Minister to Denmark, Honorable M. F. Egan, will discuss rural co-operation in Denmark. Dr. H. B. Frissell will discuss rural co-operation in Ireland, as worked out by Sir Horace Plunkett. Dr. John Lee Coulter, of the University of Minnesota, and United States bureau of agricultural statistics, will discuss rural co-operation in the United States.

Another meeting will be given to a discussion of the re-direction of elementary education. It is expected that Dr. Paul Ritter, the Swiss Minister to the United States, will tell of the adaptation of elementary education to life in Switzerland. Count Moltke, the Danish minister to the United States, will tell of the adaptation to life in Denmark. The Scandinavian folk high school which has done so much for the advanced rural development of Denmark, Norway, Sweden, and Finland, will be described by Dr. John C. Bay, of Chicago, who has an intimate knowledge of the work of these schools. Miss Jessie Fields, superintendent of the public school of Page county, Iowa, will discuss the adaptation of rural schools to rural life in that country. Miss Fields has made a national reputation by her work in this line.

Another general meeting will be devoted to a discussion of sanitation in the public school and in the home. The subject will be discussed by Dr. J. N. Hurty, State Health Commissioner of Indiana, and others.

Another meeting will be devoted to the re-direction of higher education and its adaptation to country life. The phases of this topic will be discussed by Chancellor David C. Barrow of the University of Georgia; Mr. Harry Hodgson, Athens, Ga., and others.

The second morning meeting will be given to the conference of State superintendents and the story of the progress of public education in the States during the last year. There will also be a discussion of the progress of school improvement work of the several States.

Besides the annual address of the president of the conference, Mr. Robert C. Ogden, there will be special addresses by United States Commissioner Elmer Ellsworth Brown and other prominent educators and civilians.

There will be two large round table conferences on agriculture and one on better rural home life. To these, representative farmers from all the Southern States have been invited. There will also be round table conferences on the city schools, on rural co-operation, on the church and rural life, on the press and what it can do to help rural life, on town and village improvement, and on other subjects directly connected with the problem of rural uplift. Many Southern educators, statesmen and business men will take part in these conferences and in the programs of the general meetings.

This conference differs from other educational conferences in that it is not wholly or chiefly a teachers' association. It is made up of men and women of all professions and all walks of life, who are interested in the development of this section, and who believe it can be done through better education. And all such are heartily invited to attend and take part in its proceedings.

Attacks School Principal.

A severe attack on school principal, Chas. B. Allen, of Sylvania, Ga., is thus told by him. "For more than three years," he writes, "I suffered indescribable torture from rheumatism, liver and stomach trouble and diseased kidneys. All remedies failed till I used Electric Bitters, but four bottles of this wonderful remedy cured me completely." Such results are common. Thousands bless them for curing stomach trouble, female complaints, kidney disorders, biliousness, and for new health and vigor. Try them. Only 50c. at Farris-Klut Drug Co.

What "Hamlet" Lacked.

In a mining camp town "Hamlet" was one evening given by a strolling company, and this is the criticism that appeared next day in the local papers, written by the minor dramatic critic:

"There is too much chinning in this piece. The author is behind the times and seems to forget that what we want nowadays is hair raising situations and detectives.

"In the hands of a skillful playwright a detective would have been put upon the track of Hamlet's uncle, and the old man would have been hunted down in a manner that would have lifted the audience out of their cowbides.

"The moral of the piece is not good. The scene where Hamlet sasses his mother is a very bad example to the rising generation.

"Our advice to the author is more action, more love-making and plenty of specialties. The crazy girl scene should be cut out altogether and a rattling good song and dance substituted."

Charles V. at Table.

Emperor Charles V. of Austria, by far the most powerful ruler of his day, was thus described as he appeared at table by Roger Ascham, secretary to the English ambassador, in 1550: "I stood hard by the emperor's table. He had four courses; he had sod beef—very good—roast mutton, baked hare; these be no service in England. The emperor hath a good face, a constant look; he fed well of a capon; I have had a better from mine hostess Barnes many times in my chamber. He and Ferdinand, king of the Romans, ate together very handsomely, carving themselves where they list, without any curiosity. The emperor drank the best that ever I saw; he had his head in the glass five times as long as any of us and never drank less than a good quart at once of Rhenish wine." It was notorious that the emperor ate and drank immoderately, and as a natural result he suffered terribly from gout from the time he was thirty years old.

Game to the Last.

Douglas MacDonald and his old enemy, Donald MacDonald, were once opposed to each other in a famous curling match, and the last two stones to finish the game were the two cronies'. Donald MacDonald, with enormous deliberation, threw his stone. He threw it well. He made what is called a pat lid and jumped for joy. Then it was Douglas MacDonald's turn. His case seemed hopeless, but such a splendid throw did he make that the pat lid was knocked off, and his stone lay at the side of the tee, winning the game. In his joy the old fellow jumped sky high. He came down so hard that he broke right through the ice. He sank, but, bobbing up again, he shouted from the cold water:

"Hi, lads, we've won, and if I dinna come out o' here alive be sure ye pit that stone on my grave!"—Exchange.

STUNNING FOULARD FROCK

Just What the Girls Will Consider a "Dear" Little Dress.

OF BLUE AND WHITE FOULARD.

Custom cannot stifle the infinite variety of the blue and white foulard frock which as regularly as the spring season comes around bobs up prettier and smarter than ever. Such a rejuvenation has taken place in the frock pictured. The design is neat and attractive, and the blue is the new "king's blue," which is bright and becoming in tone.

The skirt is very like the plaited jupes of several years ago, but the blouse waist is extremely up to date with its natty sailor collar and black satin tie.

The American Woman.

The most spoiled women in the world are the American women. No one disputes this, not even the American woman herself. She accepts it with complacency.

But are the grounds for her complacency justifiable? Is it to her credit that the man spends his last dollar that she may be indulged; that she occupies the position of a spoiled darling rather than as helpmeet and companion; that her days vacillate between rest cures and a mad search for excitement?

Are not the American men responsible for this helpless attitude of the American woman? Have they not in their desire to guard women from every pin prick really crippled them and spoiled their efficiency as assistant burden bearers?

The attitude of the American woman has become definitely frivolous. She wastes her abundant vitality on things not worth while; she bends her keen mentality upon the attainment of social prestige, with its endless and life destroying competition; she recklessly saps her strength in a hundred ineffectual ways.

But her ambition is frivolous, her energy spasmodic, and the expression of both is futile, because the objects upon which they are spent are not worth while. Why not give her insight and her vitality to the men of her family in their struggle for success? And let her make of society a relaxation, not an object; let her use it as a graceful ornamentation, but not as a foundation.

Who is to blame for so unjust a situation? Both. The American man because he foolishly shields the woman from every wind that blows, making of her a fragile orchid of bothouse beauty when she should be a hardy garden rose. And the woman is to blame for shutting her eyes to life's serious aspect, for chasing butterflies in the fair gardens of convention day in and day out, when she might be climbing, side by side, with the man to the high mountain tops in the land of fine achievement.

Good Things to Know.

In preparing grapefruit for the table if you will roll the fruit before cutting you will find that it is improved. If not only makes the fruit more juicy, but loosens the pulp and gives it a far better flavor.

A convenient broom holder is made in this way: Take a square of cloth a little larger than will cover the brush of the broom. Put a hem an inch wide in each end and run a tape or string in each hem, then all that is needed to have a broom cover is to lay cloth over the broom, draw the string at each end and tie.

If all the reserve corks are too large for the bottle try soaking one in hot water. It will go easily into the bottle and leave no space for air to get in. Before hemming heavy table linen rub hem with dry white soap and needle will go through more readily.

Try putting lemon juice on rust spots and then applying a hot iron. If rust does not disappear try again.
